SPECIAL MESSAGE

Few events evoke so much genuine satisfaction as the annual graduation of nurses. Besides being a deserved tribute to the young ladies concerned, and to their devoted parents and teachers, it is clearcut proof of the high esteem in which the nursing profession is universally held. In contrast with some other walks of life which leave in their wake many sad and disillusioned people, I have yet to meet a nurse who was not well satisfied with her arduous but fruitful career. The reasons are numerous and impressive.

The nursing career is particularly well attuned to the natural talents and dispositions with which Almighty God has endowed womankind: tenderness, sympathy, devotedness, all the intuitive qualities of the heart. It is a crucial sphere of service where woman always reigns supreme. It is also a great character builder, its discipline, its thoroughness, its self-sacrifice, deftly shaping young lives at a psychological time and giving them poise and dignity of a well-balanced personality. Furthermore, it is a career which keeps personnel face to face with the true purpose of life. The nurse so often in the presence of suffering, affliction and death realizes that God alone can satisfy the yearnings of the human heart. The nurse has also the joy of being the indispensable auxiliary of the medical profession. On every level every physician worthy of the name proclaims that his best efforts would be well nigh useless without her constant assistance. Besides its inherent merits, the nursing career fits a young lady to be a dependable home-builder, the center of a happy and holy family circle. Even if the bread-winner should die, she is well equipped to face the emergency.

Yet withal the nursing career is an enjoyable one especially for those who keep the proper balance between technique and mystique. What could be more thrilling and satisfying than to serve Christ the Lord disguised in every patient confided to her care? No doubt this inner spiritual joy is one reason why the average nurse displays a cheerful disposition and a wholesome sense of humor. She is a key personality in every community.

Devotedly yours in Christ,
JOHN C. CODY
Bishop of London.

MESSAGE FROM FATHER JANSEN

"You are the light of the world. A city set on a mountain cannot be hidden. Neither do men light a lamp and put it under the measure, but upon the lampstand, so as to give light to all in the house. Even so, let your light shine before men, in order that they may see your good works and give glory to your Father in heaven." St. Math. 5, 14-16.

Nursing is not only your profession but your life. Nursing is an art, and like an art it requires discipline and cultivation. Now that your formal training as a nurse has come to a close, do not consider your education completed.

That you may carry the lamp of nursing high, you must see the discipline as the vehicle of perfecting not only the art of nursing, but also the means of developing those womanly qualities which are the essentials of a good nurse. The cultivation of the art of nursing is done through the exercise of the virtues of interestedness, tact, gentleness and above all, charity.

Love God/ Love Life/ Love the country that nurtured and educated you. You owe her some of your talents and gifts. Your crown of reward lies not in cash. It lies with success, and you will be considered successful only in the degree in which you are happy. You can only find happiness in knowing that you have fulfilled your role as woman and nurse and have not compromised the ideals of your sex and profession.

You have lit the lamp; now light the way.

May the lamp of nursing light your way to the feet of God.

It gives me great pleasure to have the privilege of conveying from all of us, our thoughts and feelings as we graduate, and I would like to thank our Director and our classmates for giving me this opportunity.

This year we are celebrating the Golden Jubilee of the opening of our school of nursing. To outsiders, I do not suppose this would have the significance it has for us. To us, it means that, for fifty years, girls such as we were, two and one half years ago, have been presenting themselves at the doors of Hotel Dieu of Saint Joseph, afraid to take the big step—yet eager and expectant. Those first few months of getting acquainted with all the new faces, terms and situations seemed difficult then, but looking back now, we laugh at ourselves.

We feel that the time spent here, learning that the word "nurse" is a symbol of kindness, understanding, dignity, and good moral living, and that nursing is a combination of three factors—of art and science, and the spirit of unselfish devotion to a cause primarily concerned with helping those who are physical, mental, or spiritually ill, has matured all of us and taught us the value of human life. Without the kindly and understanding guidance of our Director of Nurses, Mrs. Richards, and Mrs. Williams, our House Mothers, we would not be leaving here with the mixed emotions we have. To you then, to the doctors, who so very generously gave of their time and knowledge, to our very competent and highly qualified instructors who stood by us with helping hands and ready encouragement always, to Reverend Father Jansen, who contributed so much to our spiritual welfare throughout our entire training period, to the graduates, and various people with whom we have worked on the wards, we say a very sincere "Thank You".

In keeping with this train of thought, no valedictory address would be complete without the mention of our dear parents. I do not think any of us could put into words, exactly how much it meant to us to have such wonderful, generous, loving people behind us. I am certain that they must have gotten very tired of listening to their complaining, money-seeking daughters' tales of woe, but yet, they never failed us. Thank you then, very, very much, is about all we can say, and we hope that by graduating today, we are repaying some small portion of the debt we owe you. Here also, I would like to mention our relatives and friends who have helped us in so many ways.

You know, looking back on all the good times we have had together as a class, all the scrapes we have gotten into, the tears and laughs in this one's room and that one's closet (after lights out, of course) it makes you stop and think. Where will Connie be in five years from now, and will we remember all the things we have learned here? We have been such good friends for these years, let us hope that the many fields of nursing to which we will go, will keep us together, at least in spirit.

In closing, I would like to say that we are very proud of our Alma Mater, and through the years we pledge our loyalty. To the students who are still climbing the ladder, we wish you good luck, and believe me, "It's worth it"!

SCHOOL NEWS

Social events of the year opened with a party for the preliminary students, sponsored by the Senior class. Merriment created by skits and games highlighted the evening. All enjoyed dancing and buffet lunch.

The Hallowe'en Dance, sponsored by the Intermediate class, welcomed many new faces to an evening of dancing and fun in the gayly decorated recreation room.

On December 12, 1956, excitement was everywhere. The memorable day of Capping finally came. In an evening ceremony, in the presence of their parents, the Preliminary students were presented with their first caps which were blessed by Father Jansen. The students were then capped by Miss Connie McGuire, and Miss Virginia Kurcz.

The Residence rocked with laughter and song on the night of the Christmas party held for the student body. Each class presented a varied programme of entertainment. Gifts were exchanged between class mates. Many lovely gifts were given to us from the Sisters of the Hospital, the Instructors, Mrs. Richards, and others.

Soon following, came the Christmas Dance, to celebrate the festive season. Guests were greeted by Santa and followed the strains of music to the beautifully decorated recreation room. The dance was a big success for the Seniors.

Cupids and lacy hearts were the theme of the Junior's Valentine's Dance. All had a lovely time especially since it was our last dance before Lent.

On May 8th, 1957, the Hotel Dieu Alumnae honoured Miss Pohlman with a year's subscription of The Canadian Nurse. She was chosen as the nurse who showed most promise of professional growth in her class.

INTERMEDIATE CLASS NEWS

We live for you, we die for you,
Intermediates of Hotel Dieu,
Some are brave, some are bold,
But we'll improve as we grow old.
Since each of us is individualistic
We'll proceed to make our story realistic.
I here giggling is there someone there?
Then appears foaming red hair,
Psycho's don't like her but does Seguin care?
Beletz, Bissonnette, and Brian do their studying at Copper's
But you wouldn't call them party poopers.
When Drouillard and Boivert need transportation
Windsor Ambulance boys take a vacation
As we hear a familiar wail more and more
Kinik says she can't get through the door
While New Year's eve gets closer this year
J. Langlois gets green behind the ear.
LaChance and Belleheumeur never shout
But its so nice to have them about
Dupuis and Renaud have another date
They'll never swing on their garden gate
Now just you wait and see,
What fine psychiatric nurses Fran and Rhae will be
I'm surprised to see Dubensky still here
The Tigers aren't in Windsor this time of year.
These five never stumble they never fall,
Yet they seem to be having a ball.
Anita, please take Penny's advice
And never drive on slippery ice
Belluz is a Del Bellonian, Wall's a Torontonion
Pair up with Daudlin whose a Second Oldian,
Of J. and M. St. Amond there is little to say
Except to Eddie and Gordie, "some day".
From the back of the class we hear a great snore,
Tennant is that you snoring once more,
Petch and Mason stand at their windows in sorrow.

Don't worry girls you'll see them tomorrow.
Rex is a mountie, Lou mixes moonshine.
O, Bornais and Shipman for them do you pine?
A most familiar saying once had Pratt—
But O Bellefonte has taken over that.
Hefferman, Damphouse and Monforton have a few pet peeves
Clostes, sheets, bathtubs and phone booths are these.
Elvis's picture is on J. MacDonald's pillow.
Eleanor Quinlan confesses her crimes,
And Betsy takes bathes at eight o'clock chimes.
I apologize for the class, Fares does say
Will you never forget the doctor's meeting that day?
One patient taught M. Renaud one thing I think,
And Hunt did you learn how to wink.
Herbert we've finally left you and Roger alone
And Geml and Young of their studies do moan
Last but not least come the terrible seven
But each one of them has a nice place in heaven.
P. Michael can make her camel go
But can Johnny do it though.
Kathy Humphrey has a cute smile
And Mario has loved it for quite a while
L. Langlois gets shifted around quite a bit
But all will agree she is "True Blue" yet
C. Meunier wears bridesmaids clothes
And never has a run in her hose,
From Indiana they came with scalpel in hand
To take Gallagher and Garragh back to see Brubeck's band.
From a saddle shaped nose comes a great sigh
And size eleven shoes go flying by,
Only O'Neil could this be
Out to Ralph she is racing you see.
That is us forty-eight in all
The fat, the slim, the short and the tall.

THE JEANNE MANCE PLEDGE

That I may be strengthened in my resolve to model my life of duty after that of Jeanne Mance, the first lay-nurse of my beloved Canada. I place myself in the presence of God, and I pledge myself with the help of His Grace to be faithful to the following ideals:

I will be true to the practice of religion, which is the inspiration of my noble vocation, and while administering to the body will serve the soul by observing the principles of right ethics and nursing honour.

I will be devoted to the profession that is mine, obeying the physician within the sphere of his authority, and I will make my work a labor of love rather than of profit whenever the service of God or country requires it of me.

LETTER FROM ALUMNAE

To the class of 1957, the alumnae of Hotel Dieu Hospital would like to extend their heartiest congratulations. This year marks the realization of many of your dreams, and has culminated in the fulfillment and completion of your student education here.

Soon you will be proud members of your Alumnae Association. We welcome you and invite you to join your Alumnae and take an active part in its operation and activities. This long established organization is the binding link between the graduate and her school, between the graduate and her hospital, and between the graduate and her sister graduates. We sincerely hope this link will remain strong for many years to come.

The activities of the Alumnae are numerous. During the past year the group has been very active indeed, and the undertakings have been most successful. Some of the accomplishments, activities and money making schemes include:

1. An autumn dance—called the Harvest Frolic which was a great social success.
2. Annual Bazaar—which highlighted skilled crafts of our Alumnae members and friends, and displayed the charitable co-operative spirit of our Alumnae.
3. Christmas Party—elicited festive spirit of our active members.
4. Card Party—an unusually successful affair—which enhanced community relationships.
5. Combined—Alumnae and R.N.A.O. meeting at Chrysler Auditorium—an affair which presented a splendid opportunity for our Alumnae members to fulfill their professional responsibilities.
6. Refurnished Graduate Nurses Rest Room in Hospital.
7. Sponsored a $500.00 scholarship to further post graduate education of our members.
8. Established $100.00 Loan Fund for needy and worthwhile students.
9. Had Guest Speakers at every meeting and presented each with a gift.
10. Donated to the Assumption International Students Seminar.
11. Sent a representative to the annual R.N.A.O. Convention in Toronto.
12. Presented Junior Student Nurses with The "Canadian Nurse" Award and Tea. This was a delightful affair giving the students an opportunity to share professional status.
13. Enjoyed the combined Graduate and Annual Alumnae Banquet at Rendezvous.

Our sincerest congratulations and very best wishes for your future success and happiness.

In the pattern of Canada's future the key piece is # you!

In this fortunate country of ours we have all the materials needed to build a prosperous future—the power and the wealth, the abundant resources of mine and forest, of field and fishery. But in one resource we face a serious and growing shortage—in capable leaders, in men and women with the necessary skills and adequate training to share in the responsibilities and rewards of a rapidly growing nation. If you plan to grow with Canada, now is the time to take full advantage of the educational opportunities your country provides . . . so that you will be prepared to help meet the exciting, exacting demands of a nation marching forward to new greatness. In the pattern of Canada's future, the key piece is you!
